The most beautiful day in the universe ended with a glamorous wing ding.

Candidates, organizers and VIPs gathered at the after-party at Okada Manila on Monday evening, January 30 to celebrate the success of the 65th Miss Universe coronation in the morning the same day at the Mall of Asia Arena.

Everyone celebrated the victory of newly-crowned Miss Universe Iris Mittenaere of France.

Her predecessor Pia Alonzo Wurtzbach also graced the event, escorted by her beau Marlon Stockinger.

Among those who were seen partying the night away are Binibining Pilipinas Charities Inc. president Stella Araneta, former Miss International Bea Rose Santiago, Miss Universe Philippines candidate MJ Lastimosa and former Ilocos Sur governor Luis "Chavit" Singson, who primarily bankrolled the event.
